7. WHICH COLLEGE IS YOUR FIRST CHOICE? WHY?

Brown University is my first choice. In addition to very strong academics, Brown has an open curriculum and no distribution requirements which allows me to pursue many different fields of study that I am interested in without having to study ones that I am not, so I can more easily pursue a double concentration. I also think its location in Providence, which is both close to Boston and New York City, will help open up a variety of opportunities both in the scientific and writing fields after College.
